BRANDING

Branding is important because not only is it what makes a memorable impression on consumers but it allows your customers and clients to know what to expect from your company.

It is a way of distinguishing yourself from competitors and clarifying what it is you offer that makes you the better choice. Your brand is built to be a true representation of who you are as a business, and how you wish to be perceived.

Branding is a perpetual process because it never stops. People, markets, and businesses are constantly changing and the brand must evolve to keep pace.

Branding can change how people perceive your brand, it can drive new business, and increase brand value, but it can also do the opposite if done wrongly or not at all.

Branding is important when trying to generate future business, and a strongly established brand can increase a business's value by giving the company more leverage in the industry. This makes it a more appealing investment opportunity because of its firmly established place in the marketplace.

In the process of delivering branding services to our clients, we have structured our company into several departments. These departments are led by qualified professionals and are set to execute your branding projects and briefs effectively and creatively. We have aligned the overall objective of each department to drive towards ensuring our clients' branding goals are achieved. The chances are that by handing over the branding role to us most of the departments will be involved in the process e.g. design, printing, or even marketing.

We work together within our departments sharing tasks, and roles to make sure the set goal in terms of branding is met for all our clients. You will have one on one interaction with a professional within the department allowing you to follow up on any project you have shared with Embrace media.

BUSINESS CARD DESIGN

A small card will identify you as a person in connection with your business.

The color, wording and texture of your business card have a lot to do with its appeal and its ability to convey your company image.

Remember;

- . Always give people more than one card (so they can give it to others).
- . Include your card in all your correspondence.
- . Carry cards with you at all times, in a card case so they're clean and neat.

POSTER, FLYER DESIGN

Posters are bigger in size compared to flyers.

They are generally posted on walls where the targeted audience can easily see them.

You will be able to use this to share your information.

Flyers are smaller in size compared to posters. They generally come in A4, A5 or A6 size, but may vary.

Flyers are handed out to individuals or are kept at places where the targeted audience is likely to come.

CORPORATE

Event branding gives businesses the chance to create truly unique events that stick with audiences and promote experiences that go beyond the brand.

When done correctly, event branding creates a strong connection between the event and your brand in the minds of audiences, which encourages them to seek out your products and services even after the event has ended.

WEDDING BRANDING SAMPLES

Political Branding

WHAT POLITICAL BRANDING IS WHAT IT INCLUDES

A brand is really the audience's perception of the political candidate; branding defines who you are as a candidate, frames the issues in a way that appeals to the audience (i.e., voters), and helps the audience connect with you on an emotional level.

It includes, but isn't limited to, logos, colors, fonts, jingles, catch phrases, and graphics or other images. These should appear on or in a candidate's campaign website, social media, email, paper materials, political advertisements and signs, and all communications. Even the simplest lawn sign needs to deploy branding. In fact, being able to control a news cycle and define the language used for a particular topic is also a part of your political brand. Political branding is crafting a narrative, and each element supports and strengthens that narrative, making you easy to recognize and hopefully easier to vote for.

It is important to put signs outside the candidate's office or in electric posts as a way of drawing attention and also awareness of the candidate's brand. Signs can also be used to convey information such as the candidate's agenda.

✓ Vehicle branding

Cars can be branded with stickers or vinyl wraps conveying the candidate's logo or slogans. Branded cars are like mobile billboards as they convey messages wherever they go.

Motorcycles and bicycles can be branded with stickers or mounting small flags.

We can cover your vehicles with vinyl wraps that protect your vehicle from scratches and also ensure the vehicle paint is not damaged.

VOTER SEGMENTATION

A candidate must break down the electorate into segments or groupings and then create a campaign platform that appeals to these targets. The goal of segmentation is to recognize and assess voter needs or characteristics, which become the foundation for defining the profile of the voters in order to plan efficient communication with them.

We have broken down the voters into groups in which the candidate's campaign will have direct emotional affect so as to compel the voter to vote for him or her.

Large format printing is used to produce large graphics for marketing, branding, and advertising purposes. These can take many forms, such as fleet and vehicle vinyl wraps, and printed retail graphics and displays tend to be some of the most common uses for the format.

Large format printing offers you a large space to advertise your business, products and services. The high visibility of your content (graphics, text and images) helps deliver your brand message effectively to a large audience.

Here are some items printed through large format printing:

BANNER

Banner printing is a type of printing that caters to those looking for wide format or large format printing. Banners are primarily used for advertising purposes to publicize the advertiser's products or services. There are different types of banners which include pull-up banners, pole banners, framed banners, etc.

STICKER (MATT/CLEAR/GLOSS/FROSTED)

Stickers are adhesive materials printed with information about a brand. They are one of the cost-efficient ways to promote a brand.

Clear stickers are transparent and can be seen through clearly while frosted stickers are not fully transparent and appear similar to the glass that has been covered with frost.

Gloss and matt stickers are referred to according to the sheens on the printed surface. Gloss stickers have the highest sheen while matt has very little or no sheen.

REFLECTIVE STICKER (SMOOTH/HONEYCOMB)

Reflective stickers are used for high-impact marketing purposes as they reflect light in low light or darkness.

They are also waterproof, tear and UV-resistant, and highly visible.

Honeycomb stickers have a honeycomb structure on their surface. Smooth reflective stickers have a plain and smooth front surface.

Product Photography

We live in a digital world where visual content has become very important. We have multiple screens with an abundance of content - images and videos. For businesses, the digital space has become key, from websites to social media, the demand for good brand and product imagery is growing exponentially.

This is in addition to traditional media from billboards, flyers and brochures.

How your product physically looks and how images of your product look affect public perception of your brand.

We encourage the use of original photos for use in branding and Marketing. Also, collect high-resolution photos and store them when the need arises for use in print or throughout marketing.

Good photography drives engagement on social media and other digital channels.

It stops people as they scroll because they want to engage with your photo.

If the photo speaks to them, they may even take another action by sharing it.

Good design and photography can influence whether people consider your product to be cheap or expensive. It may even influence how much they are willing to pay for it.

When you are designing your marketing material, you need good product photography to match the copy and tell your story. Be it a billboard, a poster or social media posts, people are more likely to look and retain information that's accompanied by an image. Make sure your product image stands out and ignites a desire to purchase.

We also involve the use of other props that go well with your product to achieve a high-end product display.

Events Photography

We have a ready team to also work on your private or social events when they come up. Birthdays, Proposals, Anniversaries, Weddings, Baby showers, Bridal showers etc.

We will go through your expectations in terms of what to capture and our team is ready to brainstorm with you on how best to capture those moments.

After a shoot at your event we can produce photos for storage in an album, desk top frames or wall hangings.

We can also print and frame personal photos that are not from our projects with you.

This will help you preserve and store photos as you reminisce those moments.

Creating social media accounts is definitely the first step. You need to first create a social media presence where people can find you. We connect the accounts with company's contacts so that at first, the existing customers can interact with you and they can also discover more about your company from the social media channels.

SOCIAL MEDIA PLANNING I.E CONTENT CALENDARS

We create a social media plan to help determine the organization's target audience, and the type of content to develop and share. We discuss and develop your goals so as to later discover if the current efforts are fruitful and are working to support your broader business goals.

Action-gate- While managing your accounts, we ask the users to interact with the posts, give reviews, and ask questions.

Polls are also an effective way to boost engagement.

Contests and Giveaways - People love to see brands give back to their loyal followers. Social media contests are a way to tag into your customer's heartstrings. Contents and giveaways encourage social sharing therefore growing your brand.

A digital content strategy is a plan that helps a business create and distribute digital content to reach new audiences, build greater credibility, generate more leads and achieve its overall strategic marketing objectives. We make sure we understand your audience, to know which content is suitable for them.

CONTENT PRODUCTION

Whether it's a blog post, an infographic, a video or something else, you should come up with attention-grabbing titles for your content piece. Your titles must be click-worthy and searchable; this sets the stage for content virality.

We generate topic ideas that appeal to your audience and then create written or visual content around those ideas.

Our team has great copywriting skills which makes us generate the best captions which are informative and at the same time entertaining.

With photos and videos of your own projects, we are highly skilled in video editing and content creation for the current fast-growing networks i.e Instagram reels and TikTok. We can also create the content from scratch as we also offer photography services.

POSTERS, FLYERS DESIGN

Clever use of imagery can be used to create a powerful message which is imprinted in the mind of your customer. Posters and flyers are great ways to bring attention to a business promotion, product or event. At the Owners, we have creative designers which will create eye catching designs that will attract customers to your accounts.

VISUALIZERS/ ANIMATIONS

Animated music visualizers are a rapidly growing genre of motion graphics. Visualizers are becoming a more popular way of adding promotional value to audio content without investing in a high-profile video production. A visualizer is a looping animation that visualizes music or audio. This is a great way to communicate to your audience as a lot of information can be passed by a visualizer. You can talk about your company, advertise your products in an entertaining way.

PRODUCT PHOTOGRAPHY

Great product photography is essential for customers to buy products. As your customers are not able to physically see or feel your products, your product images need to do the selling for you. Providing professional imagery, can also increase engagement and build customer trust in your brand.

The Owners Ventures being a brand house, be sure that we have that eye. Be it photography or videography, we make sure that the imagery tells a story. We then use the images and videos as content for your posts.

Whether you're producing images or videos, The Owners Ventures can be trusted to support your content marketing efforts.

The number of times a brand gets seen is directly related to brand recognition. Being present across multiple digital channels lends itself to higher brand recognition.
